

The Contributors

AUGUSTO ANTONIO AGUILA, UST CCWLS Resident Fellow, is a fictionist. He is the author of The Heart of Need and Other Stories and Carnival of Hate: Stories, both from the UST Publishing House. He is the Executive Secretary to the UST Rector Magnificus, a Professor of Literature at the UST Graduate School and the Faculty of Arts and Letters, and an Academic Consultant of ABS-CBN, the largest media conglomerate in the Philippines

CECILIA MANGUERRA BRAINARD is the author and editor of twenty books, including the novels, When the Rainbow Goddess Wept, Magdalena, and The Newspaper Widow. The books she has edited include Growing Up Filipino: Stories for Young Adults; Growing Up Filipino II: More Stories for Young Adults; Fiction by Filipinos in America; Magnificat: Mama Mary's Pilgrim Sites, and many others. Her work has been translated into Finnish and Turkish and is widely anthologized. She is also the publisher and manager of PALH (Philippine American Literary House), and has received numerous international awards and grants.

CARLITO 'LITO' PERALTA CASAJE is a playwright/screenwriter, professor, producer, actor, director, optometrist, and cancer survivor. He earned his M.A. in Creative Writing from the University of the Philippines Diliman, and is the Artistic Director of Dramatis Personae multi-media/events company. He teaches at the Literature Department of De La Salle University Manila. He is the recipient of numerous grants and awards, both national and international.

PAUL ALCOSEBA CASTILLO is the author of the poetry chapbook Pananangan (Librong LIRA, 2016). He teaches Literature and Humanities at the University of Santo Tomas where he also finished his M.A. in Creative Writing. His works have received honors from the Talaang Ginto, Maningning Miilat Awards, and the Gawad USTetika. He was a fellow of the Iligan National Writers Workshop, the UST Creative Writing Workshop, and the Palihang LIRA. His poems have been published in Ani, Tomas, Dapitan, and LIRA 30.

LUNA SICAT CLETO is the author of fiction books Makinilyang Altar (2003) and Mga Prodigal (2010). She is also a poet and a playwright. Her recent works include a co-edited anthology of short stories in Filipino, Sapantaha: Mga Kuwentong Spekulatibo at Imahinatibo, and Bago Mo Ako Ipalaot, which is her collection of poetry. She teaches Panitikan and Malikhaing Pagsulat at UP Diliman.

MICHAEL M. COROZA is Full Professor at the Department of Filipino, School of Humanities of the Ateneo de Manila University, handling graduate and undergraduate classes on Filipino Literature, Creative Writing, and Literary Translation. A multi-awarded poet, essayist, children's story writer, literary translator, and editor, he received the Southeast Asia Write (SEAWRITE) Award from the Royalty of Thailand in 2007 and the Ani ng Dangal Award from the National Commission for Culture and the Arts (NCCA) in 2009. He is concurrently the Chair of the Unyon ng mga Manunulat sa Pilipinas (UMPIL) and the Committee on Language and Translation (NCLT) of the Subcommittee on Cultural Dissemination of the NCCA.

CARLOMAR ARCANGEL DAOANA is the author of four collections of poetry, with Loose Tongue: Poems 2001-2013, published by the UST Publishing House in 2014, as the most recent. His poems have been anthologized in the Vagabond Asia Pacific Poetry Series, published by Vagabond Press in Australia. He has received the Don Carlos Palanca Memorial Awards for his poetry, and is a regular columnist for the Arts and Culture section of the Philippine Star. He teaches at the Fine Arts Department of the Ateneo de Manila University, and recently finished his M.F.A. in Creative Writing at De La Salle University Manila.

AJ ELICAÑO's fiction and essays have been published in Heights, Philippine Speculative Fiction, and UP Writers Club's 100: The Hundreds Project. When not writing (which is regrettably often), he teaches classes on science fiction and comics at the Ateneo de Manila University and is working towards an MA in Creative Writing in UP Diliman.

RITA GADI was educated at St. Theresa's College, UST, UP's Philippine Center for Advanced Studies in Anthropology and Islamic Studies, and the San Beda College of Law. She won her first Carlos Palanca Literary Award for her poetry at age 17; the 1998 National Centennial Poet Award for the Epic; and the 2010 New York City Poetry Award for "Songs of the Present". She has worked as an Assistant Editor of F. Sionil Jose's Solidaridad Publications; Acting Mayor of Kidapawan, Cotabato; Information Officer of the Social Security System and the Department of Labor; Policy Director of the Regional Autonomous Government in Sultan Kudarat; Executive Assistant to the Chairman of the UP Philippine Center for Advanced Studies; broadcast journalist for the office of the President of the Philippines; and Editor-in-Chief of the Philippine Chronicle.

RAMON GUILLERMO is Professor of Philippine Studies at the UP Diliman. He obtained his Ph.D. in Southeast Asian Studies from the University of Hamburg in Germany. He is the author of the novel Makina ni Mang Turing (UP Press 2013) while his most recent co-authored book is 3 Baybayin Studies (UP Press 2017). Most of his work lies in the domain of what has lately been called "digital humanities."

ANGELO "SARGE" R. LACUESTA has won numerous awards for his fiction, among them two Philippine National Book Awards, the Madrigal Gonzalez Best First Book Award, the NVM Gonzales Award, and several Palanca and Philippines Graphic Awards. He was literary editor of the Philippines Free Press and is currently editor-at-large at Esquire Philippines. He has three short story collections, including Sustainable Strategies (UST Publishing House), and a nonfiction collection, A Waiting Room Companion (Ateneo de Manila University Press) and

R. ZAMORA LINMARK is the author of four poetry collections, including Pop Verite, all from Hanging Loose Press, and the novels Rolling the R's and Leche. The five poems that appear in this issue are from The Importance of Being Wilde at Heart, his first novel for young adults that Delacorte/Random House is publishing next year. He divides his home between Honolulu and Baguio and is currently working on a novel.

JOSE P. MOJICA obtained his B.A. in Digital Filmmaking from De La Salle-College of Saint Benilde and his M.A. in Creative Writing from the University of Santo Tomas Graduate School, where he is now pursuing his Ph.D. in Literature. He has directed, written, and composed film scores for short films. His recent short films, Monique and E, were screened at the 30th Gawad CCP Para sa Alternatibong Pelikula at Video, where E received an Honorable Mention during the awards night. Currently, he teaches communication and media, literature, and film theory in the University of Santo Tomas Faculty of Arts and Letters.

CHUCKBERRY J. PASCUAL is the author of Kumpisal: Mga Kuwento (UST Publishing House, 2015), Pagpasok sa Eksena: Ang Sinehan sa Panitikan at Pag-aaral ng Piling Sinehan sa Recto (UP Press, 2016), Ang Nawawala (Visprint, 2017), and Ang Tagalabas sa Panitikan (UST Publishing House, 2016). He teaches at the UST Faculty of Arts and Letters and the UST Graduate School, and serves as a Resident Fellow of the UST CCWLS and as Research Fellow of the UST Research Center for Culture Arts and Humanities (UST RCCAH).

DINAH ROMA is Full Professor of Literature and Creative Writing at De La Salle University Manila. She is the author of three award-winning poetry collections, namely: A Feast of Origins (UST Publishing House, 2004), Geographies of Light (UST Publishing House, 2011), and Naming the Ruins (Vagabond Press, 2014). Her fourth book of poetry titled Inevitable Allusions is forthcoming.

LARISSA MAE SUAREZ teaches at the College of Arts and Letters, UP Diliman, where she is currently pursuing a master's degree in creative writing. She is a graduate of the Philippine High School for the Arts, and her fiction was accepted for the Silliman Writers' Workshop. As an undergraduate in UP Diliman, she studied B.A. Journalism, and became the editor-in-chief of the Philippine Collegian in 2008. Her work has been published in various magazines and newspapers, and she received a Palanca award for the Short Story in English in 2016.

JOSE VICTOR Z. TORRES is a multi-awarded writer, Palanca award-winning playwright, and essayist. He is an Associate Professor at the History Department of the De La Salle University-Manila and Associate Director for Drama and History at the Bienvenido N. Santos Creative Writing Center in the same university. He has a Ph.D. and M.A. in History from the UST Graduate School. He has won several awards, including the National Book Award for Travel Writing for Ciudad Murada: A Walk Through Historic Intramuros (published by Vibal Publishing) and for the Essay. He is the author and editor of books on Philippine history and culture, and a contributor of articles on history and culture to local magazines and journals.

JOHN JACK G. WIGLEY is the author of a collection of short stories (Hantong, Mga Kuwento, forthcoming), two memoirs (Falling into the Manhole and Home of the Ashfall), and two short essay collections (Lait Chronicles and Lait [Pa More] Chronicles). He has co-authored a number of textbooks on Literature and Creative Writing, and is the former Director of the UST Publishing House. He is an Associate Professor of Literature and Creative Writing at the UST Faculty of Arts and Letters and the UST Graduate School.