

The Editors

CRISTINA PANTOJA HIDALGO is the Director of the UST Center for Creative Writing and Literary Studies and Professor Emeritus of UP Diliman. She has also served as UP Vice President for Public Affairs, Director of the UP Institute of Creative Writing and the UP Press, and Director of the UST Publishing House. She has won awards for her fiction and nonfiction, and has published more than 40 books, including fiction (novels and short stories), nonfiction, literary history, and criticism. Long before the invention of the term “fictocriticism,” she has published books she describes as “literary mongrels”—part creative nonfiction and part literary commentary or criticism. Hidalgo continues to teach graduate courses in Creative Writing and Literature at UST and UP.

RALPH SEMINO GALÁN, poet, literary and cultural critic, translator and editor, is the Assistant Director of the UST Center for Creative Writing and Literary Studies. He is an Associate Professor of Literature, the Humanities, and Creative Writing in the UST Faculty of Arts and Letters and the UST Graduate School, where he is currently pursuing a Ph.D. in Literature. He has a B.A. in English (Major in Literature), magna cum laude, from MSU-IIT, and an M.A. in English Studies (Major in Creative Writing) from UP Diliman. He has won national prizes for his poems in English and Filipino, and is the author of the following books: The Southern Cross and Other Poems (UBOD New Authors Series, NCCA, 2005), Discernments: Literary Essays, Cultural Critiques and Book Reviews (USTPH, 2013), From the Major Arcana (USTPH, 2014), and Sa mga Pagitan ng Buhay at Iba pang Pagtutulay (USTPH, 2018).
